NATIONAL CONSULTING FIRM CAMBRIA SOLUTIONS ANNOUNCES NEW VENTURES DIVISION AND CORPORATE RESTRUCTURE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. – July 7, 2014 — Cambria Solutions, Inc., a national information technology and management consulting firm, announced today that it has launched a new Ventures Division and restructured top leadership to support the firm’s aggressive growth.

“As we continue to experience significant growth in number of clients, consulting assignments, and geographies, our new Ventures Division will guide our expansion into new services and markets,” said Robert Rodriguez, CEO and founder of Cambria Solutions. “At the same time, we felt the time was right to revise the overall structure of Cambria and make some leadership changes to support our overall growth.”

The company announced it will now have two divisions—Consulting and Ventures. Rodriguez will lead the Ventures Division, and will continue to serve as company CEO and be responsible for the overall health, culture, and growth of the company.

Anand Adoni, formerly the Health and Human Services Industry Lead, will serve as President of the Consulting Division. HHS veteran Suzanne Vitale, who joined Cambria earlier this year, will replace Adoni as the HHS Industry Lead, which includes overseeing all national HHS activities. She will continue to manage Cambria’s Tallahassee office. Greg Hulsizer will continue to serve as Transportation Industry Lead and will also assume new responsibilities managing Cambria's consolidated internal operations.

“By implementing this new structure, we can better align resources and talent, and it sets the stage for us to add other divisions as Cambria grows,” said Rodriguez.
